Parents cannot withdraw their child from:

- Relationships Education.

Requests for withdrawal should be addressed to the Headteacher, who will discuss the request with parents and, where appropriate, the pupil, taking account of the pupil's individual circumstances, including any SEND and safeguarding considerations, before agreeing how the request will be handled. A record of the discussion and outcome will be kept.

Parents may exercise the right to withdraw at any point up until three terms before their child turns 16. After that point, if the pupil themselves wishes to receive sex education, the school will make arrangements for this to happen, normally in one of those three terms, even where a parent's withdrawal request stands. Where a pupil has SEND that affects their ability to make this decision, the school will consider the pupil's best interests, in consultation with parents and relevant professionals, before deciding how the request is handled.
